

INSURANCE CLAIMS EXPERIENCE TO DATE:
DFC AND ITS PREDECESSOR AGENCIES

The United States International Development Finance Corporation (DFC) provides political risk insurance and project financing in support of eligible private-sector investments in developing nations, and countries in transition from nonmarket to market economies. DFC, the successor in interest to the Overseas Private Investment Corporation (OPIC) under the terms of the Better Utilization of Investments Leading to Development Act of 2018, started operations as of December 20, 2019, upon enactment of the Further Consolidated Appropriations Act, 2020 (Public Law 116-94). As noted in greater detail, below, OPIC programs were administered by the Agency for International Development (USAID) before OPIC initiated operations in 1971.

Since 1971, OPIC and DFC have made 304 insurance claim settlements totaling $998.2 million. These settlements have been structured either as cash settlements to investors ($642.2 million) or as OPIC guaranties of host government obligations or other similar arrangements ($356 million). In accordance with those arrangements, DFC's predecessor agencies have paid $130 million in addition to the cash settlements described above for a total of $772.2 million in cash payments to date.

DFC cash recoveries on claims total $782.1 million (without regard to reinsurance reimbursements). Additional recoveries in the form of OPIC guaranteed obligations ($226.0 million) bring DFC's total recoveries to $1.008 billion, or 101% (includes interest) of all claim settlements. Additional recoveries are anticipated.

From 1966 to 1970, USAID paid $3.5 million to settle eight claims. In addition, USAID denied eight claims, one of which was submitted to arbitration by the investor.

OPIIC denied thirty claims under the insurance program, of which fifteen have been submitted to arbitration by the investors. As of September 30, 2021, there were three pending claims under review by DFC.

1/ For these claims, cash was subsequently paid under the guaranty or indemnity, hence there was no corresponding increase in the overall settlement amount.

2/ Claims for failure to adhere to dispute resolution procedure or honor arbitral award.

3/ Claims for Chase Manhattan and Bank of America in Vietnam were settled not by guaranties but by indemnity agreements for $8,000,000 and $6,000,000, respectively.

4/ Without determining that expropriatory action had occurred, OPIC and the investor agreed on a negotiated sum in settlement of the claim, avoiding a contest over complex and ambiguous legal and factual issues.

5/ Claim for wrongful calling of an on-demand guaranty.

6/ Pending completion of the investor's application for compensation, OPIC agreed to make a $2,000,000 provisional payment, $1,500,000 of which was paid. In 1998, the investor established its claim for compensation up to the contract limit, and OPIC paid an additional $14,204,500.

7/ Standard Fruit filed its expropriation claim with OPIC in 1983, seeking compensation in the amount of $3,000,000 (the policy limit). As means of settling the claim without prejudicing the investor's position in pending litigation with the foreign government, OPIC made an advance payment of $2,000,000, subject to a confidentiality agreement and with the understanding that Standard Fruit could later present arguments that it should be paid the remaining $1,000,000, should the litigation produce additional relevant evidence. The investor and foreign government eventually settled their claims and counterclaims. OPIC denied the investor's request for an additional payment. OPIC and the investor agreed in 1998 on a mutually acceptable public statement about the claim, and the advance payment then became final and disclosable.

8/ The settlement amount includes a provisional payment in the amount of $4,372,492 made on November 27, 2002, which was made final by the terms of the settlement.

9/ These three payments were all in settlement of the claim of Offshore Power Production CV, an affiliate of Enron Corp.
